Hi Marcelo,

from AIA we approve the change to 3-clause BSD.

Regards,
Milenko

Hi all,

My name is Marcelo de Castro and I am currently one of Luigi Vanfretti's PhD student at RPI. I maintain the OpenIPSL together with Dietmar and Luigi.

Our group is currently planning to change the license agreement from the Mozilla Public License, v. 2.0 to the BSD-3-Clause (opensource.org/licenses/BSD-3-Clause).

However, since OpenIPSL was originally a fork from iPSL and since you guys are still acknowledged in the license agreement, we want to know if you all approve this modification.

The reason for this change is to be better aligned with the Modelica Standard Library and to be compatible with the Modelica Buildings Library, which are now distributed under the BSD clause 3 license. This will allow us to collaborate with those libraries' developers.

Luigi and Dietmar are cc'ed in this message so please let us know about any question you may have.

Best regards,

Marcelo
